Light tomorrow with today! Elizabeth Barrett Browning

Dear Parents,

I would like to start this weekly letter by thanking you for all your support and prayers. We continue to move forward here at St. Daniel the Prophet. We have had some very busy elves helping to make our vision here come true. Here are just a few things going on behind the scene: Remodeling our library, providing electrical assistance, coaching our young girls, supporting our volleyball girls, leading our troop leaders for Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, CTODP, lunchroom supporters, and our prayer partners. Without the generous support of you people, we could never accomplish what we have as of today.

The grading quarter ended this week and we are excited about our continuing journey. Hard copy report cards will come home on October 23rd. Fr. McGuire will be visiting each classroom to distribute each child's report card. You may return the after that time or at the conferences.

We still have tickets for the Sun's game. It should be a fun-filled family for all! There are also seats for the Night of Hope, which is on October 24th. Please see me if you have any questions.

All Saints Day is coming up quickly. Be thinking about the saint your child would like to read about and how they can represent that saint at our all school parade. We are in great need of our saints for role models. The time is now to plant the seeds for our future great oaks! How special to have our children recognizing the power of the intercession of our dear saints.

Heads-up! Fr. McGuire and his Hot Shots are planning their great debut at our Dog Days. Bring your hats, sunscreen and potluck pleasures for this great event. Rumor has it that Father M. has been thinking of some pretty good plays to challenge our Fantastic Fifth graders! Shhhh! Ms. Dewane WILL be playing in the starting line-up! Look out Hot Shots!

Have a great weekend, dear family!

Blessings,

Rita Standerfer
